

Having a hard time coping with the death of your pet? We can help.

Let's face it: Grief really hurts, whether you've lost a family member, friend or companion animal. But you don't have to go through this alone.

The nonprofit Good Grief Center for Bereavement Support provides free, confidential services to individuals and families throughout Western Pennsylvania. Services include:

- one-to-one compassionate listening (by phone or in person)
- an extensive library of grief-related books, brochures and CDs, all of which can be used on site or borrowed
- referrals to local support groups and therapists who specialize in grief and pet loss.

If you need to talk, give us a call or stop by.
